

Classroom Monthly Newsletter Ideas

- Activity Pictures
- Daycare highlights of the month (outings, crafts, creative play, etc)
- Lunch/snack recipes that everyone enjoyed
- Upcoming family community events
- Request sections (reminders about bringing sunscreen or hats)
- Policy Review (state your sick day policy or late pick-up policy)
- Cute comments that children said in the last month
- Celebrate Wall- post recent achievements (ie. Lisa can put on her own coat now!)
- Craft Materials request (please save yogurt containers for next month)
- Milestone Checklists -give general milestones for each developmental phase so parents know what is coming up next for their child
- Share relevant articles or helpful parenting tips
- Outline planned activities for the upcoming month
 - General / specific upcoming Holidays for current and next month
 - General / specific upcoming activities for current and next month (taken from monthly calendar)
 - Classroom focus – more in deep comments about teacher and classroom –
 - For upper classes – favorite science / math / art activity

- For lower classes – favorite teachable moment activity in general –
- For all classes – favorite “Spanish” moment
- Pictures and comments about music and movement and science and technology workshop
- More meaningful / specific comments – learning specific – instead of “ we learn a lot Awesome, etc ...”
- Special requests per classroom when necessary
- Like birthdays. Continue doing it.
- Like welcome to new students – continue –
- Like pictures – continue with pictures –

Good things to mention:

- Praise a specific student – who knows all the alphabet? Who is talking more in Spanish? Etc ...
- Announce of a baby sibling
- What should I include in my newsletters?

Your newsletter can include almost anything you want to share with your parents. Use some of these questions to help you complete your newsletter.

Do you have your monthly activities pre-planned? Add your upcoming projects.

Is there something bugging you? Add a "note from the teacher" place your pet-peeve there.

Is there a holiday coming up?

Is there any birthdays this month?

Do you need a volunteer this month?

Would you like a special guest?

Is there an upcoming field trip?

Are you children working on a new skill?

Did you take a new Early Childhood Class? Share your thoughts and opinions.

Are you receiving a degree, credential, or grant you'd like to share?

Do you need new materials?

Any of these would make great material for your newsletter.